INSIGHTS & ANOMALIES

March Anomaly: +73% Spike

March came in at $8,503 — $3,600 above the Jan/Feb baseline. The month was front-loaded: Lake Nona hotel ($953, Mar 1) and Claude.ai Pro ($200, Mar 4) opened the month, then a NYC trip (United $576, INK 48 hotels ~$570) and a Tooth Doctor emergency ($1,294) drove the peak week of Mar 27.

Merchandise Is the Quiet #1

At $6,384 YTD, Merchandise is the largest category — but it's invisible because it's distributed across Walmart ($895), Target ($1,101), Amazon ($764), Home Depot ($584), Publix ($522), and Willow Tree Nursery ($195 — active garden project in March).

Dental: $1,594 in Two Visits

Tooth Doctor billed twice — $300 in February and $1,294 in March. This is likely an ongoing procedure split across billing cycles. Health Care category ($1,813 YTD) is almost entirely dental. Expect further charges if treatment is ongoing.

HVAC Billed Twice: $806

United Air Conditioning in Largo, FL charged $180 on Mar 2 and $626 on Mar 16 — the large March charge appears to be a repair or system service. Neither charge repeats in January or February, making this an unplanned maintenance cost that compounded the March spike.

Travel Cluster: FL → NYC → FL

A clear travel arc in late March: Tampa airport (Starbucks Mar 30), NYC arrival (Cafe 53, Hudson VU Rooftop, Westville), MoMA visit, INK 48 Hotel Mar 27 through Apr 1 checkout, Uber rides throughout. Total NYC + travel cost: ~$1,400.

Services Spike: Trust & Will $898

The January Services total of $1,343 is heavily inflated by Trust & Will ($898, Jan 6) — an estate planning one-time expense. Without it, January Services would have been ~$445, consistent with Feb ($456). Not a recurring pattern.

Neptune's Grill: Weekly Habit

10 visits and $818 in 3.5 months works out to roughly once a week. Average ticket is $82. This is the clearest lifestyle pattern in the data — a reliable weekly dining anchor.
